The 1-2-4-1 formation offers a balanced spread of players over the field with numerous triangles and diamond shapes which creates good opportunities for:

- Effective positioning play
- Playing out from the Back
- Combination passing and Possession style soccer
- Creative and varied attacking play using the width of the field
- Often outnumbers opposing teams in midfield winning possession back further up the field
- More offensive than a 1-3-3-1

TEAM DEFENDING PRINCIPLES

If a mistake is made on attack an opportunity is lost. If a mistake is made on defense a game may be lost. Therefore it is critical solid defense will be a key to your success. In order to understand team defending, meaning all players are working together to defend.

1) PRESSURE the ball. The first step is to always apply immediate pressure on the ball. This does not mean diving in but closing down the players space on the ball.

2) COVER off the ball. The defense must move as one, providing support and coverage for one another. The primary thing to remember here is to have a good shape, being BALANCED. The main principle here is to not ball watch, cover dangerous space and keep an eye on your opponent while adjusting.

3) COMPACT in the center of the field. When the team closes down the center of the field and has no gaps between players it is very difficult for opponents to penetrate and attack the dangerous space.

4) DELAY the attack. You don’t always have to immediately win the ball. After attacking the space, to keep opponents from moving forward sometimes it is best to stall their progress and wait for your team to get into defensive shape. When your team has an attack delayed in a one-on one situation another team member should move in as a second defender to attack the ball.

5) EACH PLAYER MARKED every defender should know where every attacking player is at all times. The primary thing to make this happen is constant communication.
6) FALL BACK every player is a defender when the opposition has the ball. If players are tired after an attack first sprint back to goal-side of opposition to rest; they shouldn’t allow attackers to win the ball in front of them. When one defender steps up to play the ball other defenders should not remain square but, should immediately drop to support. This is also known as DEPTH in the defense.

TEAM ATTACKING PRINCIPLES

To make all components of the attack work your team needs know what to do depending on where in the field they are. Though every situation will require different needs, it is helpful to think of the field in three parts.

DEFENSIVE THIRD (from the goal defending to about 20 yards beyond the penalty box)
When your team has the ball in your defensive end the main focus is DISTRIBUTION. Remembering that defensive mistakes lose games you want to get the ball out of the back quickly. As a team you want to avoid one-on one dribbling out of the back, avoid passes to the center of the field.

CENTRAL THIRD (about 20 yards on both sides of the midline)
In this third you want to focus on PENETRATION. However you need to decide when to Penetrate V’s when to Possess the ball. Deciding when to force the play when it is not on, but when you do have space in front of you, you want to penetrate forward. Good decision making on whether to penetrate or possess will help you be more effective.

ATTACKING THIRD (from 20 yards beyond the midfield to the goal line we are attacking)

In this area we want to focus on CREATING OPPORTUNITIES TO FINISH.
The fours “S” WILL HELP CREATE OPPORTUNITIES TO FINISH

1) SPEED - On the ball the weight of the pass has to be good so it cannot be intercepted. Forward diagonal passes are key, to put the opponent on the back foot. Square passes slow the flow down and can be intercepted easily. When running with the ball this has to be at speed to suck a defender/s in to create the space for a pass to a team mate or create space for a team mates run. Movement off the ball is vital to speed the play up. Diagonal runs, overlapping runs, will help isolate defenders and create numbers up situations.

2) SPACE – To create space players be constantly on the move. Every time a player moves they create another space for another team mate. When in possession the space should be created with spreading the field with width and depth. This will allow movement to happen and good supporting angles and distances.

3) SUPPORT – When the ball is played it is important that players support the play. Good angles and distance of support is vital to allow space and time to play the next pass, dribble, cross or finish.

4) SURPRISE – It is important that players do not become predictable. Robotic players can become very easy to break down. Being creative in the attacking third can always create opportunities to goal. If this means dribbling 1v1, striking from distance, playing a free kick or corner quickly to create a goal scoring opportunity.

PLAYER ROLES

In Possession

- Goalkeeper and defenders encouraged to be comfortable receiving the ball at their feet and playing out from the back. #2 & #3 (right & left wing backs) encouraged to get forward to give extra numbers in attack, while providing width to the midfield.
NGS 8v8 Formation

- #4 & #5 should 'split' to create space. When the ball is in the midfield, they should drop closer towards their own goal to create space and be available for a backwards pass, but push up again the ball goes further forward.
- #6, #10 try to play as a unit in central midfield relatively close together to try to create 2v1s in midfield and give passing options. They also look to get forward to support #9 while being aware of leaving defense over exposed, sometimes one will need to sit deeper to give the other, and #2 & #3 license to attack.
- #6, #10 always looking to receive the ball from all players on the field - goalkeeper, defenders, and when supporting the #9
- #9 generally is the furthest player forward. #2 & #3 provide width in attack.
- In general, all players look to 'stretch out' and make the field as 'big' as possible to create space and passing options

Out of Possession

- Forward (#9) is the first line of defense. Recovering behind the ball and pressure opposition defenders on the ball, aiming to 'funnel' them towards team mates.
- Midfield players (#6 & #10) look to get compact while pressuring the ball to make it hard for opposition to play through them.
- #2 & #3 get work hard to get behind the ball to give extra numbers defensively
- Goalkeeper should be alert and ready to come out to beat an opponent to a ball played over or through the defense.

How it transfers to the 11v11 / 1-4-3-3

- Note how the player’s numbers correspond to players with the same or similar roles in the 11v11 system.
- #4 & #5 perform the same roles as in the 11v11 - central defenders
- #2 & #3 are on paper, midfielders, but in reality play like the left and right back in the 11v11 system, working hard to get behind the ball defensively, but getting forward to provide width to the midfield and attack.
- #6 & #10 in central midfield, perform various aspects of the 3 central midfield players at 11v11, including working in tandem, always trying to receive the ball, and being disciplined in when to attack and defend. A 1-3-3-1 system is popular at 8v8, but it lacks this crucial aspect as it only has 1 central midfield player operating alone and doesn't prepare central midfield players to operate as a unit.
- #9 performs a very similar role as the central forward in the 11v11 system
- #2 & #3 also involve some similar aspects as the wide forwards in 11v11 by getting forward to support the #9

Look out for...

- Midfield players not working hard enough to get up and down, leading to being short in defense, or an isolated #9. Your team will be vulnerable to counter attacks, but remember we are coaching to develop not to get the win first.
- Central midfield players not being aware of each other and disciplined in when to attack and when to sit deeper
- Central midfield players getting to far apart from each other or just running forward instead of looking to receive the ball
